

The "Do Not Call List" is a very basic right. These intrusive, annoying telephone appeals, without consent, are a violation of the privacy every citizen should be able to enjoy in his/her home. Doing away with this intrusion was a step up! The solicitors had their say and so did the public. Let's not go back!